

Ask the Author, A Gamble Creek Studio Workshop

Master Your Story, Write Your Book

Need inspiration for taking your writing to the next level?

An all-day seminar with A.C. Fuller
March 18, 2017, 9 am to 5:30 pm

Whether you are close to finishing a first draft or just looking for inspiration to get through your next chapter, join us for an intimate, daylong workshop with A.C. Fuller. The day includes a crash course in story structure and character arc and personalized help to apply it to your own story during a hands-on outlining and plotting session. Finally, A.C. will share his insights on work and family life, procrastination and the inner critic to help you continue the work when you get home.

SCHEDULE

9 to 11:30 am: Master Your Story,

a crash course in story structure and character

11:30 to 12:15 pm: Lunch provided by Gamble Creek

12:15 to 2:15 pm: Hands-on Outline and Plotting Class

2:15 to 2:30 pm: Break

2:30 to 4:30 pm: What Keeps Us From Writing?

4:30 to 5:30 pm: Informal discussion and Q&A

Cost: $125 per person, which includes:

--6.5 hours of formal workshop time

--coffee, tea and pastries upon arrival and a catered lunch

--wine, non-alcoholic drinks, and snacks in the evening.

Location: Scenic Gamble Creek Studio in Poulsbo, Washington

For more information and to register, visit:

<http://gamblecreekstudio.com/master-your-story>

DETAILS

A.C. Fuller is the author of The Anonymous Source and the creator and host of the WRITER 2.0 Podcast. He teaches writing around the country and internationally, including workshops for the Pacific Northwest Writers Association and the Royal City Literary Arts Society. From 2006 to 2008 he was an adjunct professor of journalism at NYU, and he now teaches English at Northwest Indian College near Seattle. He lives with his wife and two children near Seattle. Find out more at acfuller.com.

